

Reporter A: We are talking to Mr Arable the first owner of Wilbur.

Mr Arable: Well, Wilbur was born small and weak so I decided to do away with him. But Fern, my daughter, changed my mind and I decided to let her take care of him.

Fern: Wilbur was a cute little pig and I loved him right from the beginning. I have spent hours and hours with him and the other animals on my uncle's farm.

Mrs Arable: And not just that. Fern also claimed talking to the animals on Homer's farm but that doesn't sound normal, does it?

Reporter: Mr Dorian, you are a doctor. What is your professional opinion about Fern talking to animals?

Dr. Dorian: Well, children pay better attention than grown-ups. If Fern says that animals talk I'm quite ready to believe her. Perhaps if people talked less, animals would talk more.

Reporter B: Mr. Zuckerman, you are the owner of the farm that Wilbur was raised in. Tell us what happened on your farm.

Mr Zuckerman: One day, Lurvy my handyman, came running into the house and told us to go to the barn to see a miracle. When I went there I was amazed to see the words SOME PIG written on a spider's web. And some days later other words such as RADIANT and TERRIFIC appeared on the web, too.

Reporter B: This is amazing. Mr Lurvy, you were the first to notice the writings on the web. What else can you tell us about Wilbur?

Lurvy: When the news about the writings spread out, everyone came to see Wilbur. It is truly a special pig and that's why Mr Zuckerman decided to take Wilbur to the county fair. At the fair Wilbur won a special prize for being a special pig and we are all very proud.