

The Arkki School of Architecture at Melina's Kindergarten premises

For children, aged 4-6

Arkki School of Architecture for Children and Youth is the most comprehensive and most innovative architecture education program for children in Europe. Originating in Finland, Arkki has come to Greece and continues its collaboration with the ISA providing new workshops, for children aged 4-6.

Arkki workshops follow a hands-on, immersive approach to architectural design and construction: Children play with tools and materials, they see things from new and unexpected angles, they learn to plan and experiment and they discover their own vocations and their own talents. All workshops enhance three-dimensional perception, fine motor skills and communication.

Architecture is used to provide an edge for a truly interdisciplinary, stimulating learning environment. Children structure their own thinking, they boost their imagination and creativity and believe in their own selves; that way, they become the "architects" of their own future!
